Historically Bangladesh has a reputation for producing quality garments at attractive rates. Nearly 200 years ago 'Dhaka Muslin' was the most valuable fabric on the planet. Muslin used to be exported to Europe & American market from Bangladesh for much of the 17th and 18th century.

From 1970 onwards Bangladesh has been producing garments in modern forms. Now Bangladesh holds the 2nd place in producing garments just after China. Bangladesh is the world's second-largest apparel exporter under western fast fashion brands. Sixty percent of the export contracts of western brands are with European buyers and about thirty percent are with American buyers, and ten percent to others.

There are about 5000 garment industries in Bangladesh and 75 percent of them are in Dhaka city alone.
